

Curriculum

Indicator	Yes	No	Ways to increase quality
The program uses a written curriculum that is based in theories of child development.
The curriculum my program uses addresses all major domains of development including:
Language/literacy
Mathematics
Science
Social studies
Social emotional development
Physical growth and development
Motor development (gross and fine motor)
Approaches to learning
The curriculum helps teachers think about how to teach children different skills in each of the major domains.
The curriculum has specific learning goals for children.

Indicator	Yes	No	Ways to increase quality
The curriculum has well-designed learning activities.
The curriculum emphasizes observing children’s learning as a way of ongoing assessment.
The curriculum allows teachers to individualize instruction.
The curriculum has a family engagement component.
The curriculum can be adapted to use with children with special needs.
The curriculum is culturally and linguistically responsive to the families the program serves.			